

Press Release

City Learning Series Offered this Fall

Beaverton's City Learning Series Provides Information on City Services and Programs

This fall, the City of Beaverton's Neighborhood Program will sponsor the City Learning Series, a series of introductory classes about City government that provides introductory information to the public about such issues as City finance, emergency preparedness, and economic development. The classes are one hour long and will take place in City Hall Council Chambers every Tuesday at 6:30 pm from September 27th through November 15th. The classes are free, informal, and questions are encouraged. A light dinner will be provided. The class schedule includes:

- ❖ September 27th: City Finance: Where Does the Money Come From and Where Does it Go? [This class will run for 1 ½ hours]
- ❖ October 4th: Economic Development in Beaverton
- ❖ October 11th: Are Your Prepared? Emergency Preparedness in Beaverton
- ❖ October 18th: Permits Protect: Building Permits in Beaverton
- ❖ October 25th: The Code Services and Dispute Resolution Programs
- ❖ November 1st: Operations: Streets, Trees, and Water
- ❖ November 8th: The Beaverton Police Department
- ❖ November 15th: Overview of City Government

###